MOMCAFÉ MAKES COMMUNITY COMMITMENT BY DONATING TO CHARITIES SUPPORTING WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Vancouver: Jill Earthy & Hilary Wooller, founders of momcafé, the popular networking organization for mothers, have made a commitment to donate a portion of their monthly meeting proceeds to charities that support women and children.

‘While our donations are fairly modest at the moment, our contributions will grow as momcafé grows’, said Jill Earthy, co-founder of momcafé, ‘perhaps, more importantly, momcafé offers charities the opportunity to promote their causes, fundraising campaigns and events through our meetings and website’.

Contributions have been made to Success by Six/United Way, Africa Pikin Foundation, Dress for Success Vancouver; Disabled Skiers of BC, The Quinn Keast Foundation, Family Services of the North Shore, Covenant House Vancouver, and BC Women’s Hospital & Health Centre Foundation.

Krista Thompson, Executive Director of Covenant House Vancouver and one of the first featured speakers at momcafé, said ‘Gifts come in all sizes -large and small- and each and every one makes a difference in the lives of the youth we serve.’

On Friday, June 13, the momcafé speakers are Smart Ass Gals, Alix Cameron and Cindy Ball, the mom-entrepreneurs behind the highly successful and cheeky line of women’s lingerie. The featured charity event is the aptly named ‘The Underwear Affair’, a community run in support of the BC Cancer Foundation.

Launched in September 2007, momcafé is an organization that provides support and resources for professional moms in the form of monthly meetings and quarterly seminars. momcafé provides on-site affordable child care to enable moms to attend.
